The workshops will focus on...

Why communication quality matters to your child's education?

- Why does your relationship quality have an impact on how your child builds and manages their own friendships/relationships?
- What might be happening with the communication at home that could impact on how your child copes with

How to create the best relationship environment for your children:

- How to communicate in an assertive way to feel heard and be heard, including for your child.
- How to communicate with school staff so you feel able to make your point but do so in a constructive way so a resolution can be found without damaging the parent/school relationship.
- Simple skills and strategies to improve your relationship as a couple/ parents/co-parents.
  - Be your child's first and most important teacher, learn how to model for them healthy ways to express your needs, resolve disagreements and show kindness.
